GDPR Data Protection Training

Are you aware of what you need to be doing to keep your Data Protected?

Target Audience

Anyone dealing with personal and sensitive data

Course Details

May 2018 will see the most significant change in UK Data Protection legislation for a generation. The new law will impose new requirements upon schools and colleges who hold sensitive pupil data. There will be an obligation to "self report" and breaches of the legislation and the risk of significantly increased fines (maximum of £20m Euro) for serious breaches.

Data Protection training can benefit anyone who has access to employee or pupil data. Our data protection training enables you to learn about the Data Protection Act and other key legislation such as General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR). Of value for those working in leadership, business management, administration, IT and Human Resources, where an understanding of the law will help to provide confidence and inform decision making.

General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) is surely going to be one of the biggest issues that businesses will face in 2017/18. This new EU regulation comes into force in 25th May 2018 and companies need to start preparing now in order to ensure they are compliant in time for the deadline. These courses are very popular, so book your space now to avoid disappointment!
